

Rock Island offers Condition and Rarity to Firearms Collectors

Moline, IL - Collecting is a hobby for many, a habit for some and a way of life for others. Rock Island Auction strives to meet each individual collector's desire with every auction it builds. Every auction offers a plethora of opportunities for the firearm enthusiast, the April 30, May 1 & 2 Premiere Auction is no exception. This sale has many high conditioned and unique firearms from antique to modern that is sure to entice all levels of collecting.

This auction features the C.W. Slagle Firearms Estate Collection to include derringers, palm pistols, powder flasks and other curio type firearms. C.W. Slagle was well known throughout the firearms collecting industry and especially known for his collection of unusual and unique antique and Curio & Relic firearms. Collectors everywhere should take note that this auction is a real opportunity to obtain truly one-of-a-kind pieces.

From the C.W. Slagle collection comes an impressive Morrill, Mosman & Blaire Elgin patent cutlass pistol, serial no. 52 (largest known example). Also part of this unique collection are two scarce factory engraved gold and silver Colt Cloverleaf house model revolvers with pearl grips and a Liege proofed double barrel percussion knife pistol with attractive engraved silver panels.

There are more than 600 derringers and curio type weapons in this sale headlined by an extremely rare AM, Sterling marked solid sterling silver Colt second model derringer pistol, one of only four known solid silver Colt derringers, estimated at $50,000 - 90,000. Other impressive examples are an extraordinary Marston superposed three barrel, retractable knife blade deringer exhibition quality engraved and signed by L.D. Nimschke ($30,000 - 50,000) and a rare James Reid new model knuckle duster revolver ($8,500 - 13,000). Henry and Philadelphia derringers will include an extremely rare ivory stocked Henry deringer Philadelphia percussion pistol that is expected to bring $25,000 - 50,000.

This auction also boasts over 650 Colts with excellent percussions, single actions and fine engraved double action revolvers. An exceptional Colt model 1849 pocket revolver with deluxe factory engraving, ivory grips and pipe style case is expected to bring $27,500 - $35,000. Another example is a Colonel Samuel Colt presentation cased and deluxe factory engraved Colt model 1855 sidehammer revolver with extremely rare Charter Oak grips. It is engraved: "Sylvester Bliss/Presented by/Col. Colt/Aug. 1857./Stock of the Charter Oak" and estimated at $20,000 - 40,000. Single action Colt revolvers include an outstanding pre-war Colt dual caliber 44 Russian/S&W special with original matching serialized factory carton and original box and an outstanding D.F.C. inspected U.S. Colt model 1873 cavalry single action revolver each carrying pre-auction estimates of $18,000 - 27,500. An outstanding selection of engraved 1877's & 1878's include a magnificent Gustave Young factory engraved, J.P. Lower shipped Colt Model 1878 sheriff model double action revolver with factory letter ($25,000 - 50,000). Many of these 1878's are the finest condition we have been fortunate enough to offer at auction in quite some time.

A firearms auction would not be complete without Winchesters. Over 400 Winchesters comprised of outstanding lever actions plus excellent Model 21's and sporting rifles including Model 70's will be brought to the auction block. Three Henry rifles, a magnificent factory cased and engraved Volcanic lever action Navy pistol estimated at $70,000 - 125,000 and a spectacular, Winchester model 1886 fancy sporting rifle with factory Montgomery Ward inscription in 38-56 WCF which holds a pre-auction estimate of $30,000 - 60,000 are only a few of the impressive firearms being offered at this sale.

Rock Island Auction never disappoints the military collector. RIAC is the auction house for buying and selling all military genres. Beginning with the Civil War, two fine historically significant examples are an exceptional Gustave

Young deluxe engraved, factory cased and Civil War officer inscribed Colt model 1851 navy revolver engraved "Lieut Jas B. Smith/Co D National Guards 2nd Regt Philada" ($50,000 - 90,000) and an inscribed and identified Civil War New Haven Arms Co., Henry lever action rifle belonging to "Peter Church / Co.C. 23rd Ill Vols" ($60,000 - 75,000). A rare Miller & Co., presentation cavalry officer's saber with Collins & Co., blade is one of nearly 100 swords in this auction including several Union & Confederate. The upper scabbard mount has an integral, oval, plate inscribed: "COL. NELSON WALL. / - From Officers of - / the 4th R.I.M." ($8,500 - 16,000). Over 100 Civil war lots with high condition carbines, rifles and revolvers from Starr Arms, Richmond Armory, Burnside, Remington and many others.

This auction will also offer impressive U.S. military arms from early trapdoors through WWI & WWII sniper rifles, edged weapons and semi-automatic pistols. An outstanding U.S. Springfield model 1873 trapdoor carbine is within the serial number range of carbines documented as being used by the 7th Cavalry at the Battle of Little Bighorn and carries a presale estimate of $20,000 - 30,000. A highlight of the military items is a rare WWII Singer contract U.S. M1911A1 semi-automatic pistol with Parkerized finish ($20,000 -

40,000), one of two Singers in this auction. There are over 100 1911's and early autos in this auction, an extremely rare U.S. army first contract Colt model 1900 automatic pistol serial number 93 with holster is estimated at $25,000 - 37,500.
